There are seven teams off to a hot start and there are seven teams that have struggled after the first month of the season. Here are the top seven teams right now: 1. New York Yankees (12-4) The Yankees are 3.5 games ahead of the next best team in the AL East (the Red Sox) and 5.5 games ahead of the next best team (the Tampa Bay Rays). In 2017, the Yankees were 10-2 after the first month and were 20-1 when they held a lead after six innings. If that record is any indication, the Yankees should continue to be dominant all season long. 2. Houston Astros (14-4) In an impressive feat, the Astros have won four straight. Houston's biggest issue is their pitching staff, which is 2-4 in games started by starters who are only available for five or six innings. Their rotation is currently led by Lance McCullers (3-2, 3.40 ERA, 1.17 WHIP) and Gerrit Cole (4-1, 2.73 ERA, 1.09 WHIP). However, Houston is only 5-5 when its starters are not on the mound. 3. Los Angeles Dodgers (11-3) The Dodgers are the only other team within four games of the Yankees. Their offense is led by the long ball, as they are hitting 269 with 29 homers and 88 runs. With their success thus far, they're one of the most dangerous offenses in baseball. 4. Boston Red Sox (10-4) Boston is second in the AL East behind the Yankees, but when compared to other teams in the league that have been winning most of their games by large margins (L.A., Chicago, Cleveland), the Red Sox are mediocre. Their offense is struggling to score runs, but as long as they can
